

Draft Amendment to the food businesses which import food and genetically modified food raw materials shall keep the relevant records, documents and electronic files or databases of the imported products.

Announcement
1. Information to be kept	1. Product information : include, <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (1) Chinese and English (foreign) product name(s); (2) main and minor raw materials; (3) food additives; (4) storage conditions; (5) packaging containers; (6) name, registration number(or social security number) and employer identification number of the obligatory inspection applicant; (7) name of the company, address, contact person, contact phone and factory code of exporter and manufacturer(slaughter or responsibility company of the export country) ; (8) batch / lot number; (9) net weight, volume, quantity or measurement; (10) expiry date, manufacture date or other recognizable date or information about the source of the product; (11) date of the Customs release; (12) application number for import foods and relevant products inspection; (13) the food business registration number information for those food businesses designated by the central competent authority in a public announcement shall be retained. (14) the products shall be labelled the country of origin of raw materials designated by the central competent authority in a public announcement; the country of origin of raw materials must be included. 2. For genetically modified food raw material, the following additional information shall be kept: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (1) event; or (2) unique identifier information. 3. The copy of the import declaration.
2.Requirement for the keeping	The food businesses shall keep the related records, documents, electronic files, or database of imported food and genetically modified food raw materials for five years, after date of the customs release.
3. Who need to implement	All businesses which import food and genetically modified food raw materials

Announcement
4.The date of enforcement	From the date of formal announcement.